

STAMP OUT SLEEPING SICKNESS CONSORTIUM AWARDS

Following the Ministry of Public Service Award through the Civil Service College Uganda that recognized COCTU as THE UGANDA PUBLIC SECTOR Networking Across Government Award 2013 WINNER, the Uganda Trypanosomiasis Control Council (UTCC) on behalf of the Ugandan Government recognized Stamp Out Sleeping Sickness (SOS) consortium by presenting them with Awards at the Round Table on Tsetse and Trypanosomiasis held at Hotel African, 27th February 2014. The highlights are given below:

Executive Director COCTU Receiving the Award from the Prime Minister of Uganda in October 2013 on behalf of COCTU

SOS Consortium representatives in a group photo after the Award ceremony. From L, COCTU, COVAB, UoE, CEVA, IKARE

COCTU AWARD

Anne Holm Rannaleete receives the award on behalf of IKARE/IK for their financial, logistical, supply chain and support of the sustainability framework

Martin Mitchell receives the award on behalf of CEVA for their role in the manufacture and supply chain of needed drugs and chemicals for SOS

Chris Ssetumba receives the award on behalf of MTK for their role in the supply chain of needed drugs and chemicals for SOS

Prof. John David Kabasa receives the award on behalf of COVAB, Mak for their role in science and innovation that led to SOS plus provision of needed technical and human resource.

Prof. Sue Welbum receives the award on behalf of Global Health Academy, UoE for their role in science and innovation that led to SOS plus their M&E role.